Remember the first time you had a hand in opening the door at Passover . . . in seeing to it your child, your grandchild did? The door for Elijah. The door that for each family becomes a charmed passage-way on Passover night. That historic door with its two-way hinge. Opening out — to a faith and a vision of a better future. Opening in — with its welcome to the guest and the stranger.

For 3,000 years, the small, simple gesture of that open door has somehow captured the larger meaning of Passover, its celebration of Freedom. For 3,000 years, the sign on that door — written into the pages of the Haggadah — has remained unchanged . . . "Let all who are in need enter . . . and be fed . . . and be served."

Here in our community, that ancient ceremony of the open door continues . . . lives and breathes. Alive and in practice — in the most solid and down-to-earth fashion.

For holidays. As well as everyday. Here, in Edmonton — an open door of concern and service to the disadvantaged, the poor, the elderly . . . to the needs of Jewish education and the quality of Jewish life. An open door of service that we have and must continue to extend to thousands of courageous Soviet Jews making their way to Israel, to our own shores . . . and to all of Israel's newcomers who depend on us in these critical times to see them through. An open door of welcome — that reaffirms at this holiday our family sense, that Jewish need and Jewish problems, wherever and whenever they exist, are our responsibility and concern.

Our best wishes for a joyous Passover to the entire community.

Western Jewish Historic Exhibit Here Aug. - Oct.

"Journey Into Our Heritage" a visual history of the Jewish communities in Western Canada, opened a twelve month March 14th at the Centennial tour of the West on Sunday, Museum in Vancouver. Prepared by the Jewish Historical Society of Western Canada and funded by the National Museums of Canada and by private subscription, the exhibit depicts the arrival, life and times of the Jewish immigrants and the face of the community today.

Highly sophisticated in its design and concept as a travelling exhibit, "Journey Into Our Heritage" has assembled a richly evocative display of photos, documents, and objects of cultural and religious significance. There are forty-four panels, eleven supplementary volumes of documents and photos, seven showcases, and three audio-visual units.

The story-line was written and the project planned and co-ordinated by its chairman, Harry Gutkin, assisted by Dorothy Hershfield, the executive director of the Society, and Esther Nisenholt, the archivist. Jewish Historical and archives groups across western Canada participated in the collection of material.

An attractive poster and a twenty-eight page illustrated catalogue have been released, featuring the heroic sculpture of Moses by the distinguished artist Leo Mol, who is presently working in Winnipeg.

Following a one month stay in Vancouver, the exhibit will proceed to Victoria, Calgary, Edmonton, Saskatoon, Regina and Winnipeg. In Edmonton it will be shown at the Provincial Museum and Archives from August 26 until October 24 inclusively.

Community Responds To Histadrut Drive

The Edmonton Histadrut Campaign for student scholarships in Israel is receiving a good response.

Since 1950 the Histadrut in partnership with Canadian Jewry have built thirty-four large well-equipped modern schools teaching over a hundred different trades and are dotted throughout the length and breadth of Israel. Some 24,000 students fill the classrooms and workshops learning everything from typing to advanced electronics. In addition they are learning all subjects to qualify for entrance to University. The problem is of course, that each year some 4,000 applicants to Amal schools are turned down — not because of lack of space — merely because funds are not available. Their families are too poor to provide the minimum $250.00 for one year tuition. Our goal in Canada is to provide 1,000 scholarships annually to relieve the situation.

In the Canadian field that is of interest is the appointment of Mr. Leon Mitchell, Q.C., of Winnipeg, Man. to the position of Deputy Minister of Labor in Ottawa. Mr. Mitchell has been and is a strong leader and supporter of the Histadrut.

Through the affiliation of the Histadrut with the leadership of the labor movement in North America they are strong supporters of the State of Israel. Their leaders have sent strong protests to the United Nations on the recent resolution condemning Zionism with Racism. They represent the support of millions of workers for the State of Israel.

I'VE BEEN WORKING ON THE RAILROAD

From the beginning of the Jewish settlement in the West there were Jews employed by the railway. As far back as 1882 several of the Jewish persecutees from Russia arriving in Winnipeg found employment in the railway construction gangs. As the railway continued its path to the west coast, employees would often go as far west as the railway had been built and then settle.

Shown here is Mr. A. Garfin in 1913. Encouraged to immigrate to Canada by his brother Mr. H. Garfin, he worked the Edmonton to Prince Rupert run as a "newsy".
